Middle School Is Cool for Students at Blackstone Valley Prep

When Blackstone Valley Prep Middle School in Central Falls, Rhode Island, started its 2015-16 academic year, students were treated to a newly renovated, fully upgraded former private Catholic school. New York-based Civic Builders, a nonprofit organization backed by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, helps high-quality charter schools like Blackstone Valley Prep finance and renovate private space to suit their needs.

In this case, $7.5 million was spent on buying an old, 31,000 square foot building and updating it with new mechanical, electrical and plumbing systems, an elevator, and Winco's Series 1150S Projected Windows. The new windows feature a clear anodized finish, exterior grid, mesh screening, radius windows and panning. Plus, Winco Windows provide outstanding protection from noise, wind and water infiltration, as well as offer energy-saving thermal ratings.

Now Blackstone Valley Prep Middle School is ready to serve students well into the 21st century.
